THE RAMAPO VALLEY WATER SCHEME. PROJECT AND THE OBJECTIONS TO IT-A TALK

WITH THE PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY.

The fact that Governor Cleveland has signed the bill allowing an additional supply of water for this city to be obtained from the Kamapo Valley has caused a feeling of alam in Newark, Paterson and Jorsey City, watch draw their supplies of water from this source. The manufacturers along the Passaic River are also apprehensive that the supply of water for driving the machinery of their establishments may be shortened. The Ramapo, from whose headwaters the Ramapo Improvement Company propose to supply this city with 50,000,000 gallons of water daily is the chief tributary of the Passaic River, and any consideable amount of water taken from the Ramapo would reduce the flow of the Passaic. The New-Jersey Water Commission will therefore begin legal proceedings to prevent any diversion of the water of the Ramapo by the Ramapo Improvement Company.

When the Croton Aqueduct Commission was engaged in taxing testimony as to the best means for providing this city with an increased water supply, among those who appeared as witnesses were Danis Jackson, Auditor in the Finance Department, and William J. McAlpin, the well-known engineer, who as an authority on hydraulics. Mr. Jackson is the president of the Ramapo Improvement Company. His plan was to bring water in iron pipes, from reservoirs constructed in the Ramapo watershed, crossing the Hudson River by a syphon. It was claimed for this project by Mr. Jackson is the president of the Ramapo Improvement Company. His plan was to bring water over Trinity Church steeple and that, therefore, there would be auditient to throw a stream of water over Trinity Church steeple and that, therefore, there would be no difficulty in forcing water to the top of all the high buildings in the city. Mr. McAlpin testified that the scheme was entirely feasible, and that by means of it water could be brought into the city in two working seasons or less than two years.

Mr. Jackson was seen yesterday by a Tribuxer reporter to whom he gave the following Information: "The Ramapo Improvement Company w against the Morris Canal Company in the year 1829."

"What steps do the company propose to take ?"

"The law just passed authorizes and directs the Sinking Fund Commissioners of this city to examine the project of supplying the city with pure water from Orange and Rockland Counties. And if in their discretion it is to the interest of the city they may enter into a contract for the supply of not less than 50,00,000 gallons daily at a cost not exceeding that of the same number of gallons supplied by the Croton system. The representatives of the company will be ready, when the Sinking Fund Commission meets, to lay the project before it. The project includes the building of several reservoirs in the Ramapo watershed. The water will be brought all the way in iron pipes, using a large syphon to cross the Hudsen River. Mr. Modipin has carefully studied the project and he pronounces it entirely feasible."

WHY GEN. SHALER WAS NOT NOMINATED.

It was made known yesterday that Mayor Edson, before starting for Vermont on Tuesday, had placed in the hands of Captain Francis J. Twomey, clerk of the Board of Aldermen, the nomination of Major-teneral Alexander Shaler for president of the Board of Health, to succeed Professor Charles F. Chaudler. The communicationwas sealed and has not yet been opened. A number of vetoes were also sent to Mr. Twomey. The Mayor's object in doing this was to prevent any question as to the legality of his action in sending communications to the Board of Aldermen while he was absent from the city. The nomination of General Shaler has called forth a good deal of opposition. President Reilly and the other Tammany members of the Board of Aldermen were sent for by John Kelly and told that it was deemed advisable that General Shaler should be confirmed. Mr. Reilly said that he could not consent to vote for General Shaler. He was reminded WHY GEN. SHALER WAS NOT NOMINATED. confirmed. Mr. Reilly said that he could not con-sent to vote for General Shaler. He was reminded by Mr. Kelly that it was policy to do so. Mr. Reilly again declared in the most positive manner that under no circumstances would be vote to confirm General Shaler. None of the other Tammany Alder-men refused to accede to Mr. Kelly's wishes, but there were two or three who decided to absent themselves when the meeting of the Board took there were two or three who decided to absent themselves when the meeting of the Board took place.

Mr. Reilly, who is acting Mayor in the absence of Mayor Edson, did not go into the chamber of the Board. At 12 o'clock the Board was called to order by Alderman Fitzpatrick. Clerk Twomey called the roll, and only Aldermen Cochrane, Finck, Fitzpatrick, Grant, Jachne, Kirk, O'Connor, O'Neill, Waite and Weils answered. There were culy cleven present, and as it takes thirteen to make a quorum, Mr. Fitzpatrick adjourned the Board for one week. In the ante-room down stairs ten other members of the Board were gathered when the adjournment was taken. There were quiet smiles among the Aldermen at the manner in which the Mayor and Mr. Kelly had been for the time outwitted. Aldermen De Lacey and O'Neill and other members of the County Democracy declared that they would not vote for General Shaler. If he is confirmed it will probably be by the votes of the Republican and a majority of the Tanmany members of the Board.

One of the stories current around the City Hall was to the effect that, in case General Shaler is confirmed, Dr. Cyrus Edson, a son of the Mayor, is to be made Sanitary Superintendent. Dr. Edson and Colonel E. T. Wood, the Mayor's brother-in-law, are on General Shaler's staff.

General Shaler before the war was in business in this city. He was a captain in the 7th Regiment, National Guard, and served with it in 1861. He was given the liquitounant-coloneley of the 65th New-York Volunteers, and rose to be brigadier-general. After the war he was chosen one of the Board of Suervisors, and was afterward a Fire Commissioner and president of the Board. He commands the First Division of the National Guard.

THE BRIDGE NOT A POPULAR RESORT.

The great Bridge was patronized by moderatesized crowds yesterday morning, and before the sun was high enough to extract all the freshness from the river breezes the elevated promenade afforded a cool and pleasant walk. The drift of the people was mainly from Brooklyn to New-York through the earlier hours. But before the orb of day rode at high noon things had changed. The few people on the Bridge drifted to the towers, and there were stranded to cool off. The space around the towers was filled with a perspiring, disappointed looking crowd nearly all day. The people had plainly come to the suspended walk in the belief that it was a chean and salubrious summer resort. In the middle of the afternoon very few people had the hardthood to cross the blazing pathway, and when the thundershower swept over the structure there was a skurrying of only a few wayfarers to places of shelter.
After the shower large numbers crossed from NewYork to Brooklyn. The work on the New-York entrance is being pushed rapidly torward. The waiting-trooms are nearly completed and the masonry for the cable grearing is nearly ready. The railroad track is being laid into the station at the Brooklyn entrance, and it is expected that the cars will be running in the first few days of July.

Walter Rivers sends to The Tribune a sketch of a patent double-action vulcanized vehicle that he proposes to construct for use on the Bridge. Mr.
Roebling having built the greatest bridge in the world, Mr. Rivers proposes to ontdo him by constructing the largest and most curious vehicle ever drawn by horses. It is to be a combuned conservation car, passenger train and refreshment saloon in the daytime, and a first-class hotel with sleeping accommodations at night. A "draftsman" is now and to be at work upon this prodigious affair and a blacksmith is to be employed soon. THE BRIDGE NOT A POPULAR RESORT.

A LUCKY PRODIGAL.

A LUCKY PRODIGAL.

Andrew Litzenburger, a silk dyer at Paterson, N. J., is a remarkable instance of a man favored by fortune and not knowing how to appreciate it. Some time ago his father died in Saargemünd, Lorraine, and left him a fortune. He immediately proceeded to spend it, and a few days ago two women who, it was alleged, had acquired $1,780 of the prodigal heir's money in one night in a nouse in Twenty-seventh-st., were arrested on the charge, but for lack of evidence were not hold. Early this week Litzenburger received word that he had fallen heir to $50,000 in Lorraine by the death of his mother. He sailed for his native land yesterday morning to get possession of his second fortune, after having, by paying some borrowed money, just escaped arrest on a charge of obtaining it under false pretences. Before his departure he told Justice Weiss, whom he left in charge of his affairs in Paierson, that he had spent $14,000 of his first legacy in one month at the gaming table in this

ESTABLISHING LOWER QUARANTINE.

The Quarantine hospital ship Illinois was towed down to her customary anchorage in the Lower Bay, between West Bank and the Southwest Spit, yesterday. Lower Quarantine, under the supervision of Deputy Health Officer Dr. J. MacCartney, will be opened to-day, and all vessels coming from ports south of Cape Hatteras, or from foreign poxis where epidemic or contagious diseases exist, will be boarded from this vessel. The Illinois is the summer residence of Dr. MacCartney and his family, and a sick person is never taken on board. An agent of the Ship News Bureau of the Associated Press is afforded facilities on board for collecting the routine of ship news. The law provides that Lower Quarantine shall be opened by May 1. The delay this year was caused by the failure of the Legislature to make any appropriation for the Quarantine Commission by which it could make the necessary repairs to the vessel. The delay is said not to have endangered the health of the port, since Havana and Vera Cruz are remarkably free from yellow fever this season. Hereafter, however, all vessels from the West Indies and Mexico will be boarded at Lower Quarantine, and no vessel will be permitted to come to the city until five days, have elapsed since leaving Havana.

At a recent meeting of the Water Board of Long Island City, Alderman P. J. Gleason was appointed chairman of a special committee to examine the accounts of ex-Commissioner Russell Wight. It was understood that the report was to be presented to the Common Council, so when Mr. Gleason presented it to the Water Board yesterday it was argued that he had no right to submit it. Mayor Petry took this view of the case, and Commissioner Gleason charged him with a desire to cover up the deficiencies. He was sharply called to order, and it was decided amid confusion to allow the report to be received. Commissioner Gleason's figures show a deficiency existing in ex-Commissioner Wight's accounts amounting to nearly $9,000. The Board decided to refer the entire matter to Corporation Counsel Payne. Nothing was found upon the body by which it could be identified.

CARDINAL MCCLOSKEY'S CONDITION. CARDINAL McCLOSKEY'S CONDITION.

Vicar-General Quinn denied yesterday the report regarding the illness of Cardinal McCloskey. The Cardinal, he said, on Tuesday filed an instrument giving the power of attorney to himself and Chancellor Preston, for the transfer of certain church property. "I have held the power of attorney from the Cardinal," he stated, "for five or six years and the power now given is simply an enlargement in the direction I have stated. The Cardinal's hand is palsied and this renders it difficult for him to attach his name to papers, so that the power given me is simply for convenience."

THE BEARING OF A MURDERER. Edward Hovey, who murdered his sister-in-law in April, 1882, did not appear dejected yesterday because of the Court of Appea's decision which affirms the legality of the trial by which he was convicted of murder in the first degree. He employs his time in his cell in the Tombs by painting on canvas. He expects to be hanged and lays the blame on drink, which he says made a devil of him.

STATEN ISLAND.

WESTERN TOUR. Manager John McCaull, who returned from is Western trip on Tuesday night, was found by a minuse reporter yesterday in the Casino, where he was a consultation with the Aransona relative to the pronection next week of "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief"

TRIBUNE reporter yesterday in the Casino, where he was in consultation with the Aransons relative to the production next week of "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief" by the returned only yellow the returned of the Colonel, who, in spite of serious indisposition in San Francisco, is looking in the most robust health, "to disband only to reorganize. Several of the company were anxious for a short reat, so I concluded a week earlier than I intended at Cheago and came directly here. Besides, Barnum was there for the present week and was booming his show with conflagrations, etc. But I have no denot I should have done well. Daly was pitted at Hooley's aguinst Barnum and his advance sale was very large. And then Chicago, like New-York, has advanced to a higher grade and demands good operatic and comedy companies as well as circus companies."

"How did you find the great West generally, in regard to opera!"

"I was astonished at our success. It was not all that it should have been, for we were bally handled. Haverly managed the route for us and he managed us as he would a minstret combination with haif a dozen end-men. I had the biggest troupe ever taken West for English or Italian opera either—fifty of 'em, with Carleton, Perugini, Cottrelly and Post—begging the ladies' pardons for naming them last—and a big chorus. I got some of Jean-nie Wibston's disbanded chorus at Philad elphia, and discharged some of my own, who used to come to and go from the theatre in coupés—only ladies wanted in McCaull's chorus, you know—and coming back I picked up some of Catherine Lewis's stranded people. So Ibrought back more than I took away, and I must say that nicer and quieter and more coliging people never travelled so far and so agreeably together.

"I am going to organize at once for next season. Yes, Miss Post is advertising that sae is disengaged, and she is a charming woman and wonderfully improved singer and actress, but she thinks she wants more money, you know, as they all do; but it she can't do better—and she can't, I'm sure—sh

The new coachman has been advised to be scrupulously pointe toward his employer if he wishes to keep his place. Accordingly, when his master visits the stable the following conversation takes place: "Well, John, how are the horses this morning!" "Quite well, sir, thank you. And you!"

Rev. Dr. Longpray: "What, sir! Furnish Mev. Dr. Longpray: "What, Sir! Furnish you with a copy of my sermon to publish in the Faro Gazette! No sir! I should not like to see it in your paper." Reporter: "Now dearher chew soap for nothin; cuily! We'll fix it up soze yer won't know it yerself."—[Life.
